

SycoTec: A Company With Experience. And Future.

SycoTec has been developing and manufacturing innovative drive and device solutions for industrial and medical applications for half a century. Our products place us nowadays amongst the world's leading manufacturers. We are a company with great experience and boasting a very promising future. We have a current workforce of around 300, manufacturing successful products for use in dental and medical technology, machine tools, precision mechanics, aviation and optics. Our activities are spread across three business units: Dental Drives (motor and device solutions for dental and medical technology), Industrial Drives (electrical drive systems for industrial applications) and Components (production of complex assembly groups and parts).

SycoTec GmbH & Co. KG